

The drawing is a technical drawing of a building or structure. It shows a rectangular layout with several internal divisions. The drawing is very faint and difficult to read.

Figure 1. A technical drawing of a building or structure.